REPORT.

In obedience to the requirement of the Act of Assembly, of 24th February, 1847, the Twenty-first Annual Report of the Board of Inspectors of the Philadelphia County Prison is herewith presented to the Legislature.

During the year which has just elapsed, the Board has to regret the loss of several old and esteemed colleagues. Of the eleven Inspectors of whom the Board is composed,* four, whose names were appended to the last Report, are no longer connected with its organization. Dr. William Shippen, a valued and most efficient member, and long known as one of the foremost philanthropists of Philadelphia, resigned his office as an Inspector of the Prison in January, 1867. Soon afterwards, he closed a long life of public and private usefulness and benevolence, his death having taken place at his residence in this city, June 5th, 1867. The vacancy made by the resignation of Dr. Shippen was very acceptably filled by the appointment of Christian J. Hoffman, Esq., commissioned by the Court of Common Pleas.

* Five are appointed by the Supreme Court, three by the District Court, and three by the Court of Common Pleas.

In May last, Herman Cope, Esq., much to the regret of the Board, declined a re-appointment; and, at the same time, contemplated removal from Philadelphia deprived the Board of the services of John Brodhead, Esq. The vacancies thus made were filled by the Supreme Court, to the great satisfaction of the Board, in the appointment of Manlius G. Evans, Esq., and Dr. William Byrd Page. Dr. Page had served previously as an Inspector, in 1860 and 1861, having resigned in the latter year, upon leaving Philadelphia.

The Board has also to regret another recent loss, in the resignation of John Robbins, Esq., in January of this year. Joseph W. Bullock, Esq., has been appointed by the Court of Common Pleas to fill this vacancy, to which the Board has great pleasure in welcoming him.

Since the organization of the Board, in 1856, when the appointing power was conferred upon the Courts, vacancies have occurred only by the death or resignation of incumbents. Of the eleven Inspectors appointed at that time, only three now remain. The unavoidable changes which time has thus necessarily made, have not, however, interfered with the stability of the policy originally adopted in 1856, of ignoring party politics in the government of the prison. The principal employés have remained the same for a long series of years, and it cannot admit of a doubt that a faithful and honest administration of the discipline of the prison is incompatible with the constant removal of tried and efficient officers.

The statistical tables appended to the Report furnish the usual information on the various topics of interest connected with the subject of prison discipline.

The number of commitments for the year 1867, was 18,575—a small decrease as compared with those of 1866, when they reached 19,468. In 1865, they were 16,142; in 1864, 14,067; in 1863, 17,219. In 1860, the year preceding the war, they reached 20,801. The number of commitments, however, for the last six months of 1867, is larger than for the corresponding period of 1866, showing a present increasing ratio, which is no doubt due to the decline of general business, and the want of work and the distress experienced by the laboring classes. Thus, from January 1st to July 1st, 1867, the commitments were 8,623, against 9,773 for the corresponding period in 1866; from July 1st, 1867, to January 1st, 1868, 9,952, against 9,695 for the same period in 1866.

Of the commitments for the year 1867, there were white males, 12,361, against 13,053 for 1866. Of white females, there were 4,619, against 4,743 for 1866. There were 1,025 black males and 570 black females committed.

The capacity of the Prison for the proper confinement and appropriate employment of its present population, is manifestly insufficient. "Repeated attention has been called to this subject by successive grand juries, in their presentations to the Court of Quarter Sessions, and by the Board in its Annual Reports. The separate system, of which the State of Pennsylvania has long been the especial advocate, is necessarily abandoned in all the departments of the Prison ; and even in the convict corridors, two, three, and, in some instances, four prisoners, are placed together in a single cell. The establishment of a House of Correction, however desirable, would not relieve the crowded condition of the convict cells. Either an extension of the convict blocks, or the construction of a new Prison, is a necessity that cannot be much longer overlooked. The safe keeping, the proper punishment, and the moral improvement of the prisoners, alike demand it, and the Board feels called upon earnestly to direct the attention of the Legislature and of the City Councils to the subject.

In one department of the Prison an important increase of accommodation has been effected within the past year. In compliance with the repeated representations of the Board, the State Legislature, at its last session, transferred from the control of the High Sheriff to that of the Inspectors of the Prison, the building known as the Debtors' Apartment, situated on a lot adjoining the Prison. An ordinance of Councils was soon afterwards enacted, conferring upon our Board authority to adapt the cells of this building to the use of the Female Department of the Prison, and to extend the latter with the view of uniting the two. The sum of twenty thousand eight hundred dollars, ($20,800,) was appropriated for the proposed alteration and construction, by which forty cells will be added to the Female Department. The new extension, containing twenty cells, is ready for the reception of prisoners, and the alterations in the Debtors' Apartment will be completed in a few weeks, by which twenty more cells will be secured, which will furnish ample accommodation for the female prisoners. The whole number of cells for the use of female prisoners will, by the new arrangement, be increased from ninety-five to one hundred and thirty-five, and the new as well as the old cells are all provided with gas, water, and water-closets. The expenditure for this improvement will not exceed the amount appropriated therefor.

The necessity of a House of Correction for the detention and employment of able-bodied vagrants and drunkards, which has been so long urged and advocated by this Board, is now generally conceded, and within the past year earnest efforts have been made by the municipal authorities to accomplish this much needed reform. One hundred thousand dollars have been appropriated by Councils for the erection of the proposed building, provided it can be placed upon the lot known as the Parade Ground, contiguous to the Prison. This is a very suitable location. The House of Correction would thus assume its proper relation as auxiliary to the Prison, and the cost of its construction, as well as future management, would be greatly economized. A difficulty has been found to exist as to the authority of the City to occupy this lot for the purpose desired, which, it is hoped, will be surmounted. The large outlay which the purchase of any other suitable ground must involve, will no doubt seriously delay the prosecution of the work, while the same advantages are not elsewhere to be had.

Of the commitments to the Prison during the past year, a larger than even the usual fearful proportion is traceable to the direct or indirect effects of intemperance. Of the whole number of commitments for, 1867, (18,575,) 14,137 or more than three-fourths, were for offences attributable to this cause. Thus, there were 1,948 commitments for intoxication; 1,546 for vagrancy, (which may be considered as another term for intoxication;) 1,347 for assault and battery, almost always the result of drunkenness; 9,203 for disorderly conduct, (synonymous with intoxication;) and 93 for assault and battery with intent to kill. These figures present a very startling picture. They certainly call for some modification of the present injurious wholesale license system, and we venture at least to express the hope that the Legislature will not remove the slight restraints imposed by the Act of the last session, upon the sources of crime in our midst.

Of the prisoners committed for trial during the year 1867, (5,196,) more than four-fifths were discharged without being brought to trial—3,802 by the committing magistrates, and 450 were ignored by the Grand Jury. This large number of discharged cases indicates an enormous aggregate of commitments which were unnecessary or for trivial causes.

In a considerable proportion of the cases, the discharges were obtained by the direct intervention of the Prison Agent. Many of them furnish instances of oppression and persecution, which are discreditable to the administration of criminal justice among us. We believe that a great reform is needed in our present system of magistracy. The recommendation, more than once proposed in the Reports of this Board, is again renewed, as to an entire change in the source of appointment, the tenure of office, and the mode of compensation of committing magistrates. We refer to the more extended views expressed on this point in previous Reports.

Two executions took place within the prison-walls during the year 1867. Gottlieb Williams, convicted of murder in the first degree, for the murder of Mrs. Miller, was hung on the 4th of June, 1867. George W. Winnemore, convicted of the same offence, for the murder of Mrs. Magilton, was hung on the 24th of August, 1867. On both these occasions, the requirements of the law, providing for the infliction of the death penalty, were complied with by the High Sheriff of the County, Henry C. Howell, Esq., with the same propriety that was observed on the execution of Anton Probst, on the 8th of June of the preceding year. No persons whatever were admitted within the prison upon the days of execution, except the official witnesses designated by the Act of Assembly.

There are now in the prison four convicts under sentence of death, who have been from time to time respited, and who, there is good ground for presuming, will not be executed. They are,

1. Edward J. Ford, colored, convicted of murder in the first degree, and sentenced May 31st, 1851, to be hung. His Excellency, William F. Johnston, Governor of the State at that time, upon reviewing the testimony in the case of Ford, came to the opinion that his offence was of a less grade than murder in the first degree, and refused to order him for execution; and he has been since detained in the prison in solitary confinement. He has now served a longer sentence than he would have received for murder in the second degree, having been a prisoner for more than seventeen years. His conduct has been invariably good, while in prison, and the Board believes that his case, in every respect, recommends itself to executive clemency.

2. Patrick Farrigan, sentenced to be hung February 9th, 1863, respited by Governor Curtin. His conduct, as a prisoner has been good.

3. Jerry Dixie, (colored) sentenced to be hung May 30th, 1863, respited by Governor Curtin.

4th. Newton Champion, sentenced to be hung, December 1st, 1866. After his sentence, there being grounds for the belief that he was insane, Governor Curtin appointed a commission of medical experts to inquire into the question of his lunacy; and upon their report in the affirmative, the Governor refused to sign his death-warrant. His mental condition is apparently now the same as at the time of his examination by the commission.

On the 20th of January, 1868, the Board of Inspectors and the Superintendent were severally notified by the Attorney-General of the State, not to discharge Joseph Maloy and James Keating, convicts originally sentenced by the Court of Quarter Sessions to one year's imprisonment, but whose sentences, upon reconsideration by the Court, had been reduced to six months and seven days. Before the expiration of the second sentences, the record of the cases was removed by Writ of Error to the Supreme Court; and, acting under the advice of counsel, the Superintendent declined to discharge the prisoners, as had been the practice previously, upon the expiration of the revised sentences. The question of law involved in these cases will, no doubt, be before long determined by the Supreme Court.

Fifteen deaths occurred in the Convict Department during the past year. Of these, nine were from pulmonary consumption, two from typhus or jail fever, one from the effects of self-abuse, one from heart disease, one from scrofula, one from general debility. Typhus fever was introduced into the convict corridors by prisoners who, after conviction and sentence, were removed from the untried department, bringing with them the seeds of the disease. Eight cases occurred, of whom only two died, the disease having been met with the same skill in treatment, and the same precautions to prevent its spread, which had proved successful in 1865. Twenty-six deaths occurred in the Untried Department, viz., fourteen from the direct effects of debauch, two from mania-a-potu, two from typhoid fever, two from debility, two from Asiatic cholera, one from consumption, one from typhus fever, one from apoplexy, one from hemorrhage from the lungs. The cases of Asiatic cholera occurred in October last, two vagrants; who were attacked by the disease immediately after their admission into the prison. The disease proved almost instantly fatal; and, although nothing was known of the previous history of the patients, it was supposed that they might have contracted the disease in the vicinity of the Navy Yard, where a very virulent endemic of cholera had been for some time prevailing. Happily, no other case followed.

Eight births occurred during the year, four in the untried, and four in the convict department.

The Board has great pleasure in bearing testimony to the fidelity and skill with which the Physician, Dr. Henry Yale Smith, discharged his duties during the year. Unusual labor was imposed upon him by the occurrence of malignant diseases; and on all occasions he was prompt and attentive.

Mr. John B. Haines, apothecary, resigned his office on the 30th of June last. Dr. Benjamin F. Butcher was appointed his successor, and has discharged his duties satisfactorily.

Every attention is paid to the moral improvement of the prisoners. Regular religious services are held on Sundays. In the month of May last, there were added to the library for male convicts, more than one hundred and fifty volumes of books, of both an entertaining and improving character. The library is much appreciated by the convicts, and is generally used.

The Board cannot, without doing injustice to their feelings, pass unnoticed the unwearied and devoted services of their esteemed colleague, Joseph R. Chandler, Esq., which, at all times conspicuous, are eminently marked in seasons of unusual sickness. Mr. Chandler spends most of his time in the prison, visiting it twice daily during six days of the week, all his energies absorbed in the effort to infuse some desire of better things into the breasts of this family of the friendless and the outcast.

In all departments of the prison, the Board has the satisfaction to record a faithful performance of duty. Upon the Superintendent, Mr. W. B. Perkins, devolves the chief responsibility of the administration of the Institution; and to his executive efficiency the successful management of the Prison is mainly due.

Mr. J. K. Howell, the Clerk, has proved, as heretofore, prompt and faithful in his official conduct. The services of the Prison Agent, Mr. W. J. Mullen, have been no less valuable, during the past year, than formerly. Mr. Mullen is untiring in the discharge of the peculiar and delicate duties assigned to him, and accomplishes a great amount of good.

The expenses of the prison, as will be seen by reference to the subjoined table, were less for 1867 than for 1866. The profits of the shoe manufactory were $2,694 84. No weaving was done except for prisoners' clothing. The amount received from the United States Marshal, for the support of United States prisoners, was $1,393 20. The entire annual expenses, after deducting the profits of the manufacturing department, the estimated value of provisions, coal, and drygoods on hand, ($10,229,) and the amount received from the United States Marshal, for United States prisoners, were $95,276 60.

The usual table is subjoined, affording a comparison of the expenses of the Prison for the last fourteen years.

PHYSICIAN'S REPORT.

To the President and Members of the Board of Inspectors of the Philadelphia County Prison.

GENTLEMEN:—Herewith I present to the Board of Inspectors, the Twenty-first Annual Report of the Medical Department of this Institution, for the year ending December 31, 1867. In doing so I find little to add to the usual statistical tables. During the year no epidemic occurred, the attacks of severe diseases were comparatively few and in most of the cases that did occur, easily controlled. We were visited it is true, during the month of October, by Asiatic Cholera; this disease made its appearance in the prison at the same time that it was complained of at the Philadelphia Navy Yard; the attack was confined to two cases among the vagrants, who were seized with the disease immediately upon their entering the prison; the attack in both cases was almost instantly fatal; nothing whatever was known of the previous history of these two men; they may probably have been connected with the navy yard in some capacity, and by that means contracted the disease. Owing to the timely and proper precautions adopted, the disease happily did not extend beyond the two cases mentioned.

The diseases differed very little from the usual varieties; the chronic affections still adhering to the victims of intemperance, who form, as usual, at least seven-tenths of the patients who present themselves to our notice. On the 31st day of December, 1866, there were in the Untried Department, four hundred and twenty-eight persons; received during 1867, eighteen thousand five hundred and seven-five, making a total of nineteen thousand and three, eight hundred and ninety-seven less than during the previous year. For the different cases treated in this department of the prison, see table No. 3 continued, which gives a resumé of all sickness occurring monthly.

Eight births occurred during the year, as follows: in the Untried Department four whites, and in the Convict Department three whites and one black. There were twenty-six deaths, (being precisely the same number as last year,) as follows: Phthisis Pulmonalis, one; Debauch, fourteen; Mania apotu, two; Typhoid Fever, two; Typhus Fever, one; Debility, two; Apoplexy, one; Cholera, two; Hæmoptysis, one.

The ratio of mortality for all cases as compared with the number of prisoners was fourteen hundredths of one per cent., or twenty-six deaths out of nineteen thousand and three persons. The deaths for the year occurred principally in the twenty-four hour cells, and among that class of vagrants who have been making periodical visits to the prison. After being discharged many of them were brought back to us in a dying condition, others of them die in the station houses, and frequently in the van before reaching the prison. This state of things is attributable mainly to the use of spirituous liquors.

The cells in the Untried Department are very much over-crowded, there being from three to five prisoners in each cell. This arises from the fact that the capacity of the prison is entirely inadequate to the demands of the City. A House of Correction, or Home for Inebriates is very much needed. I am happy to state that there is now every prospect that the former Institution will speedily be erected, the Councils of the City having made an appropriation for that purpose.

Like the Untried Department of the prison the "Convict Department" has also been during the year just passed, very much over-crowded—indeed, to such an extent that during the Summer months its effect was much to be dreaded. The Typhus Fever made its appearance in this part of the prison during the year, among the convicts, eight prisoners were attacked; owing to the timely precautions adopted, and the treatment made use of, the same as that described in my Annual Report for the year 1864, the disease was prevented from spreading, and but two cases proved fatal; this disease did not originate here, but was introduced by prisoners, who after conviction and sentence, were removed from the Untried Department, where they had occupied cells formerly occupied by those suffering from the fever, or had acted in the capacity of nurses to them. When brought to this department they brought the seeds of the disease with them. But few instances of fatal disorders were developed in the cells, and very marked improvement occurred among many who had previously been leading a career of dissipation, privation and exposure. The number of prisoners sentenced to hard labor in 1867, was four hundred and ninety three; remained in prison on December 31, 1866, three hundred and fifty ; total, eight hundred and forty-three. Of these there were fifteen deaths,—three died in January, one in February, two in March, three in May, two in July, one in August, one in October, one in November, and one in December. For particulars in relation to the fifteen prisoners,—Nos. 220, 258, 279, 288, 336, 432, 1350, 1438, 1452, 1525, 1694, 1763, 1845, 1976 and 1997, see table No 19, which gives color, sex, when committed, former health and habits (as far as known,) time and cause of death.

The prisoners discharged through the year were 457—white males, 305 ; black males, 77 ; white females, 57 ; black females, 18—and may be arranged in the following classes, in reference to their health on admission and discharge :

1st.	Received and discharged in good health,	-	-	-	-	120
2d.	“	“	in the same grade of imperfect health,			90
3d.	“	“	in better health than when received,			169
4th.	Discharged in worse health than when received,	-	-	-	-	78
						<hr/> 457

I avail myself of this opportunity to acknowledge my indebtedness to the Superintendent and other officers of the prison, and to Dr. B. F. Butcher for the able and valuable assistance he has rendered me in the discharge of my professional duties. To you, gentlemen, I beg leave to tender my grateful acknowledgments for the uniform kindness that has characterized all your intercourse with me. I would be guilty of injustice to my feelings were I to allow this opportunity of speaking of the attention and kindness to the prisoners, and the liberality exhibited by the Hon. Joseph R. Chandler to pass without comment. Notwithstanding the fact that he has passed the age of threescore years and ten, he visits the prison twice daily, where, without hope or desire of reward, he devotes himself to the care and attention of the sick and the moral cultivation of the prisoners. No father could exhibit more kindness to his children ; and his visits are looked forward to with interest and pleasure by those who daily come in contact with him. During times of sickness especially his attention and services are invaluable. With no prospect of return, and with a liberality and discretion almost without precedent, he gives of his means liberally in any way that will best promote the comfort and welfare of those who have been unfortunate enough to become inmates of this institution. His kindness and liberality towards the prisoners are recognized by them with appropriate feelings of gratitude and respect; and the wish is often fervently expressed that he may long be spared to that community among which he has done and is constantly doing so much good.

The following Table shows the number of Prisoners sentenced to hard labor, also the average number of deaths, and the mortality per centage annually, for the last twenty years :
